Waghill Trip Report - Year 5 2025

An Unforgettable Adventure!

Our trip began with an exciting educational visit to Coca-Cola (Nyanza Bottling Company Ltd), where students had the unique opportunity to learn about how sodas are made. The tour guided us through each stage of production—from the initial mixing of ingredients to the bottle washing, counting, and packaging processes. It was fascinating to see the machinery in action, working seamlessly to produce bottles of refreshing drinks. The experience was both informative and engaging, and to top it off, the students received a special treat at the end of the visit.

From there, we continued on to Waghill, and the excitement only grew. The journey began with an early breakfast on the bus, full of anticipation and high spirits. Upon arrival, the students were welcomed into a spacious and stylish penthouse, with separate rooms for boys and girls. After settling in, we enjoyed a delicious lunch before heading straight into the afternoon's outdoor activities.

The highlights of the first day included an exhilarating hike where students were lucky enough to spot a female lion from a distance—a thrilling sight! From the top of the hills, students created artwork inspired by the breathtaking views of the lake and the lush green surroundings below. The adventure continued with rock climbing, football matches, and swimming, with different groups rotating through the activities at various locations around Waghill. The energy and enthusiasm were amazing to witness.

After a busy day, the evening brought relaxation and fun with indoor games like Connect Four, UNO, Bingo, and digital chess on tablets. Dinner was a treat of chips, chicken, soda, and water, followed by a cultural celebration featuring a Maasai dance experience. Students dressed in traditional Maasai attire, took memorable photos, and enjoyed the warmth of the bonfire under the stars. To end the night, everyone gathered to watch Migration, a light-hearted and enjoyable film before heading to bed.

The second day began with a refreshing morning jog and group aerobics session, energizing everyone for the day ahead. After breakfast and some downtime with indoor games, the students embarked on a scenic boat ride, enjoying the breeze and views while capturing joyful moments on the top deck. The trip concluded with smiles, laughter, and cherished memories as we headed back to school. Waghill offered our students not just fun and adventure, but also moments of bonding, creativity, and appreciation for nature. It was truly a trip to remember!
